

CRITICAL SKILLS

Charge Up Your Career: Learn Critical Skills

Health care is changing at an unprecedented pace.

Act now to prepare for changes ahead, from technology to new care models.

As part of Kaiser Permanente's Workforce of the Future initiative, learn more about the 4 critical skills: digital fluency, consumer focus, performance improvement and collaboration.

Join the journey! Build critical skills with these 3 steps:

- 1 Take Kaiser Permanente's critical skills course. This online course is for eligible participants of the Ben Hudnall Memorial Trust and SEIU UHW-West & Joint Employer Education Fund. Earn a certificate and digital badges for completing the course.
 - ➔ Sign up at the Ben Hudnall Memorial Trust (bhmt.org/critical-skills) or SEIU UHW-West & Joint Employer Education Fund (theedfund.org/programs/critical-skills).
- 2 Keep going. Learn more about the critical skills (kpcareerplanning.org/critical-skills). Explore career paths at kpcareerplanning.org/paths. Talk with your manager and, for education trust-eligible union members, meet with a trust fund career counselor to make a plan.
- 3 Stay involved. Apply your skills to improve care and service. Encourage colleagues to participate. Learn more about the Workforce of the Future initiative at LMPartnership.org/workforce.
